'I Got A Brother' by Carl Pannuzzo

I got a brother, oh I
I got a brother, oh I
Won't you carry me, oh
Won't you carry me, oh
I will carry you, oh I, oh I, oh
I will carry you, oh I, oh I, oh

I was so afraid I was going mad,
Then I found a friend I never knew I had
Now I'm not lonely anymore,
'Cause you came along and now I know

I got a brother...

I got someone to smile at me when I'm sad
Someone to tell me it ain't that bad
I got someone to scratch my head,
And keep me mentally fed, I said

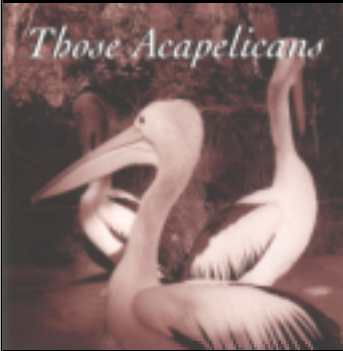

I got a brother...

Oh you are my spiritual guide
You give me love, keep me sane inside
You helped me from troubles and set me free,
Now I'm here for you just like you were for me

I got a brother...

'Everything's Gonna Be Alright' by Carl Pannuzzo

Everything's, everything's gonna be alright.
Ain't no need to worry now
(Repeat)

When time's been given the upper hand
And space is smaller than you can stanc
And sweet love's so very hard to find,
And nobody listens and everyone's blind
Don't you worry, don't pay no mind,
Even if you've been left with the bacon rinc
Return to your heart and you will see
You're still beautiful and you're still free. 'cause-

Everything's, everything's gonna be alright..

When waking up to the day outside
Makes you wish you could run and hide
And sorry's feeling is all there is
And you're as active as an unopened wiz-fizz
Don't you tear up no hers and his
'Cause gifts you got got nothin' to do with no show-biz
But you're free to give 'em whenever you want
You can be the main course not just the vol-au-vent

Everything's, everything's gonna be alright..

Everything's as strange as it can be
Anytime you take your boat to see
Anyway you dream is a disguise
So watch out how you use your eyes...

When your perspective is underground
And stress conviction is all you've found
And loneliness is about all that's yours,
And you've been waging too many wars
Don't you fret about what's the cause,
That'll just get you pushing and pulling sliding door:
When crying's all there is left to do
There's always one last piece of love designed for your rescue

Everything's, everything's gonna be alrigh'
Ain't no need to worry now...etc
Ain't no need to worry 'cause.

'Prayer" by Carl Pannuzzc

A song for you is a prayer for me
As a love can be so much to live
A song for me is a prayer for you
In exchange the two each other give
And a love is seldom stronger than shared.

In a time that is gone as it's here for a tear
Do we feel more than fear what is wrong, and long for life
Much quicker than it's here, and miss it disappear...
A memory faded, another day to wait, wait, wai
It's here as it's gone, as short as it's long
So find me a song to play...

A song for you is a prayer for me..

In a world that ignores what it takes
And mistakes what it's made for the fakes
And its laws are the jaws of life
Whose biting only rapes and charity escapes...
A dream invaded, another way to hate, hate, hate
It takes what it ignores and prides its petty wars
But there's still something more that stays...

A song for you is a prayer for me..

Wondering can make it seem indefinitely definite
That it was all a dream, it might as well have been.

Thundering contempt brings irresistible resistance
To the innocent whose thing is wanting just to sing..

Sing through their actions, sing with their hearts
Sing with their thoughts and sing through their art..

A song for you is a prayer for me
As a love can be so much to live
A song for me is a prayer for you
In exchange the two each other give
And a love is seldom stronger, and a love is seldom stronger
And a love is seldom stronger...than shared.

'Happy World' by Carl Pannuzzo

Happy world, happy world, happy world, happy world...

There's a place I know, it's where the angels come and go
They are everywhere and no-one sits in the big chair;
They're dancin', making circles 'round each other,
Giving love to one another, and even through the sticky saps –
'Cause everybody, everybody living in a happy world...

Happy world, happy world...

There's a love inside, it's as one as time and tide
And if we all went swimming in this pool,
There'd be no more need for no more rules
People be singing, jumping up and in the air
A multi-cultural world to share,
We could listen to the different raps –
Keep everybody, everybody livin' in a happy world...

Happy world, happy world...

Yinning, losing, winning, bluesing, grinning, choosing, spinning...

(Solo)

There's a place where chaos reigns, and harmony holds hands with pain
And every flower is growing free, 'cause they blossom creativity;
People be crying, feeling everything they feel,
Trusting 'cause it's all for real, and understanding tricky traps -
Keeps everybody, everybody living in a happy world..

Happy world, happy world...
